Our society makes things difficult in many ways...

- Common misunderstandings and fears
- Ignorance and prejudice
- Cultural and religious factors

Our children need understanding, acceptance, love and support.

When discovering that a member of your family or a friend is gay, lesbian or bisexual it is often very distressing. It can be difficult to understand exactly what this means and how or why it affects you.

bpsg is a voluntary organisation of parents of gay and lesbian children. We offer support to other parents and families when they discover a family member or friend is gay.

You are not alone. We are all parents in similar circumstances. We have been through the emotions that you may be going through and asked the same questions as those you may be asking.

We can listen and talk together about how we feel, all in complete confidence.

"I needed to talk to somebody who was going through the same experience."

"I thought I had done something wrong."

"How can you possibly bake cakes when you have a gay son and lesbian daughter?"

"I'm so proud of my daughter and I'm very angry with the way society treats our lesbian daughters and gay sons."

"Attending the group meetings has helped me accept and support my gay child."
